It's Education and Organization

It's by hard work... you need the discipline of the
... made by doing... the whole machine
... to produce something lasting and worthwhile...
... the satisfaction of growth... the working elements like success...
... the key to open the door... the door of knowledge... the door of ... the door of leadership... a key to be used wisely... a
... center around for everything... always ready to say "George" going...
... the side of success when the doors are opened... the little best that ... the best... again for reason?

P R E S I D E N T   C .   H .   M A R V I N

This year Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin will celebrate his thirtieth anniversary as President of The George Washington University.

President Marvin has been instrumental in the growth and improvement of the University since his appointment to office in 1927. During his presidency, the University has added many of its present buildings, including Building C, Hattie M. Strong Residence for Women, Lisner Library, Lisner Auditorium, the new George Washington University Hospital, the Warwick Memorial Cancer Clinic and Monroe Hall.

This Fall the President accepted the new Tompkins Hall of Engineering for the University from its donor, the late Charles Hook Tompkins, builder and Member of the Board of Trustees. This massive, modern Hall is one more step toward the completion of Washington's dream: a University in the Nation's Capital.

FIRST ROW: Oswald Symister Colclough, Dean of Faculties; Myrna Pauline Sedgwick, Administrative Secretary; Claud Max Farrington, Assistant to the President; Henry William Herzog, Treasurer; Fred Everett Nessell, Registrar. SECOND ROW: Harold Griffith Sutton, Director of Admissions; Don Carlos Faith, Director of Activities for Men; Virginia Randolph Kirkbride, Director of Activities for Women; Margaret Davis, Director of Public Relations; Burnice Herman Jarman, Director of Summer Sessions.

Administrators

Junior College

Experience has convinced many educators that a general cultural background should supplement the more specialized subjects to follow. For this purpose the Junior College was founded in 1930. Historical, social and economical antecedents are more adequately understood after this two-year background in the four-year college program in which emphasis is placed upon the scientific and physical aspects of civilization. The degree of Associate in Arts is awarded to individuals who successfully complete this program, and a two-year terminal program of vocational training is offered in Secretarial Studies and Accounting. Preparatory professional curricula are offered for admission to the Schools of Education, Pharmacy and Government, and the first two years of pre-professional work required by the Schools of Medicine and Law are provided.

In 1821 the Columbian College was granted a charter for the "sole and exclusive purpose of educating youth in English, learned and foreign languages, liberal arts, and literature." The basic purpose of the Columbian College is to develop the student's awareness of his particular abilities and his general intellectual powers. This objective is achieved by acquainting the student with one major area of study while developing his understanding of how this field fits into the larger context of liberal arts. Among the many fields of study available are English, philosophy, history, literature, foreign languages, mathematics, arts and sciences.

Recently, a revised curriculum has been designed to broaden the scope of a liberal arts education to meet the necessities of modern times.

School of Government

ARTHUR E. BURNS
Dean

JOE L. JESSUP
Assistant Dean

The School of Government was established in 1928 as a further development of the basic functions of The George Washington University to provide training in business, in foreign service and in governmental theory and administration. Students are prepared to better serve their country by training for careers in government service, business and professional fields. A curricula which combines social, economic, political, business, historical and psychological training is supplemented by many advantages derived from the University's location in the nation's capital.

Improved understanding of individual responsibilities under the Constitution of the United States in the conduct of public office is secured by a program that includes both graduate and undergraduate work.

RALPH W. RUFFNER
Associate Dean

The School of Education has done much to improve educational facilities and opportunities by producing competent teachers, supervisors and administrators who have benefited from the varied educational courses offered. These students of education may receive Bachelor of Arts degrees in the fields of Education, Home Economics or Physical Education. For those who wish to continue their studies, degrees of Master of Arts in Education or the degree of Doctor of Education, government training programs and training for those holding liberal arts degrees are offered. Advanced studies are available to experienced teachers, and advanced professional certificates are awarded to those who have a Master's degree and thirty additional credit hours.

School of Education

School of Law

The George Washington Law School, oldest in the District of Columbia, has been the developing concept of a national law center for 91 years. As a member of the Association of American Law Schools and the American Bar Association, it provides its students with unique advantages derived from its location. Unlimited facilities for effective research and observation of federal judiciary, legislative and administrative agencies are but part of the opportunities available in the national capital's training ground for lawyers. Students may benefit from the Law Library, the George Washington Law Review and the Student Bar Association.

The purpose of the Law School is to produce students equipped to meet the needs of society in private and public law who recognize their responsibility for the continued development of modern laws.

CARVILLE D. BENSON
Assistant Dean

The School of Engineering, recognized by the Engineer's Council for Professional Development, was founded in 1884. Throughout the years, it has been known as the Corcoran Scientific School, the Washington College of Engineers and the College of Engineering and Mechanic Art. The School of Engineering develops in its students a fundamental knowledge of the scientific principles of their field, skill in application and a responsible attitude toward society and the engineering profession. Bachelor of Science degrees in the fields of Civil Engineering, Mechanical Engineering and Electrical Engineering are conferred. The advantages of an advisory system and special degrees for those who demonstrate unusual professional abilities are available.

The construction of a new engineering building, Tompkins Hall, and the recent establishment of two new degrees are significant of the expansion of the School of Engineering.

MARTIN A. MASON

School of Engineering

School of Pharmacy

CHARLES W. BLIVEN
Dean

Founded in 1867 and affiliated with the University in 1906, the School of Pharmacy provides for specialized training of professionally competent pharmacists and the promotion of the health profession of pharmacy in general. These goals are attained in a plan of instruction which correlates professional courses with liberal arts studies to develop student standing and responsible attitudes toward society.

The School of Pharmacy, accredited by the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education, is a member of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. Students of pharmacy, with access to the American Institute of Pharmacy, pharmaceutical museums, government agencies, laboratories and libraries, may further benefit from the knowledge and experience offered by many outstanding men in the profession who are practicing in the city.

Division of Special Students

Established in 1944, the Division of Special Students is one of the newer divisions of the University. Students who wish to qualify for degree candidacy must first meet the scholastic requirements of this division. Individual attention is given to a special student who studies courses that will apply toward his degree and that correspond to those required by the college or school to which he will transfer after attaining the required Q. P. I. An advisory program which provides for individual student conferences gives impetus to the rising number of students who qualify for transfer each year.

Division of University Students

The Division of University Students offers unique educational advantages to adult students who are not candidates for specific degrees, but who wish to benefit from the wide range of instruction offered. These students of varying ages and occupations may enroll in courses either for credit or as auditors, and may transfer to another division of the University when the requirements of that college or school have been met. Since 1930, this important division has grown to include an increasing number of students.

College of General Studies

Since 1950, the College of General Studies has provided over 5,000 federal employees with an adult education program in the fields of government, education, business and industry. The College of General Studies with an off-campus division extends its facilities to many towns in the vicinity and confers A.A., B.A. and M.A. degrees to qualifying individuals. This newest division of the University includes the Division of Community Services, a Counseling Center and a Reading Clinic.

Panhellenic Council

Winning pledge class representatives Sheila McKeown and Patsy Martin accept the Annual Goat Show cup from Professor Leggett and Panhel vice-president Tilli Mossesso.

The George Washington Panhellenic Council guides sorority life all through the year. Its main aim is to promote cooperation and an intersorority spirit among the eleven sororities on campus.

Panhellenic is an administrative, legislative and judicial body. Under its auspices the Junior Panhellenic Council is organized and operated.

The Panhel Council takes charge of rush procedure and the membership selection in both the fall and winter rush periods. The Panhel Prom and the Panhel Sing are two of its major projects. It offers an annual award for the sorority and the pledge class with the highest scholastic averages.

Wandering Greeks

Three transfer Greeks—no longer Wandering since the founding of a new organization especially for them.

The Wandering Greeks Society was founded on the University campus in March, 1956, by Lois Cobb and Alice Vardaman with the help of Miss Virginia Kirkbride. Its members are transfers to the University who belong to sororities which are not represented here. The Wandering Greeks share the sorority house at 2137 G Street with Delta Gamma.

This year there are 13 active members in the Society, representing eight sororities. The group sends a delegate to the Panhellenic Council, where she may vote with campus sorority delegates on issues before the Council.

The Wandering Greeks participate in sorority functions such as the Panhellenic Prom, and sang in the Panhel Sing on March 15. Anne Leone, 1957 Cherry Tree Princess, was sponsored by this active and successful organization.

FIRST ROW: P. Pierson; S. Thayer; N. Oldham; Miss Sherard, Advisor; SECOND ROW: T. Yim, A. Tehaan, V. Corcoran, E. Baker, E. Mandis, J. Kiessling, E. Bronstein.

The Junior Panhellenic Council consists of representatives from each sorority pledge class. The purpose of the council is to promote intersorority cooperation, to encourage scholarship, to serve the University in every way possible and to guide the sorority pledges.

Of major importance is the Goat Show held in the fall. The competing sororities abide by the regulations set down by the Council. The can-of-food admission price for the show is then given the Washington Federation of Churches for distribution to needy families.

Junior Panhellenic Council

Inter-Sorority Athletic Board

ISAB was organized to promote and guide intramural sports between the sororities on campus. The representatives from each sorority and the executive board set up tournaments in bridge, tennis, swimming, basketball, volleyball, badminton, bowling and golf.

The winner of each competition is awarded a trophy and point credit. At the end of the year the points are tallied and the sorority with the highest score is awarded a large yearly trophy.

Interfraternity Council

DICK GIESLER
President

The Interfraternity Council represents the national collegiate fraternities at the University, with membership made up of one delegate from each of fourteen fraternities. It is classified by the University as a top-level governing body.

This year's active Council sponsored many projects helpful to the school and community, among them a Christmas party for underprivileged children in the University area, and the publication of a new rushees' handbook. The handbook contains information on all fraternities and the Greek system as a whole, and is made available to all new students through the Student Activities Office. The IFC also sponsors Greek Week, the IFC Sing, and the IFC Prom.

The Council boosts school spirit, as shown in its presentation of a special award to the 1956 Varsity Football team. The team was cited for adding to University prestige by its 7-1-1 record and its invitation to the Sun Bowl.

IFC officers are elected on the basis of a rotation system, so that every fraternity on campus may be represented in office periodically. The Council works closely with the Office of Men's Activities.

Members of Delta Tau Delta, participants in the 1956 IFC Sing, sponsored by the Council.

"But why should Editors have to type copy?"

Pi Delta Epsilon is the national journalistic honorary fraternity at the University. It is composed of members of the staffs of the Hatchet, the CHERRY TREE, Mechele-civ and Amicus Curiae.

Pi D E's limited membership is designed to honor those students who have made outstanding contributions to the editorial or business work of one or more of the member publications. Meetings are held once a month, and new members are honored at semi-annual initiation banquets.

The Journalism Forum of the annual Career Conference is sponsored by Pi Delta Epsilon. This year a musical tribute was composed for the group by two of the members.

Members of Mortar Board, easily distinguished by their white crested blazers and black skirts, have, through this senior women's honorary, received recognition of their qualities of high scholarship and outstanding leadership in activities on campus.

After being tapped at the May Day Assembly, they begin planning their activities for the following year. The Last Lecture Series, sponsored again this year by Mortar Board, provides the unusual opportunity of hearing prominent members of the faculty speak on the subject they would choose if it were their farewell lecture. Especially invaluable are the services offered during fall orientation such as ushering at orientation assemblies, presenting a skit at the Big Sisters Coffee Hour and tapping new members for Tassels. Throughout the year Mortar Board acts as a sponsor to Tassels, the sophomore women's honorary, and at Christmas presents the "Smarty Party" to honor junior and senior women who have maintained an average of 3.0 or above. In their effort to promote higher standards of scholarship and leadership, Mortar Board selects an Outstanding Sophomore Woman who is tapped at the May Day Assembly.

Members of Mortar Board personify campus leadership, high scholarship and willingness to contribute toward activities that will advance campus life.

Tree-trimming for the Smarty Party.

Mortar Board

Omicron Delta Kappa

Gene Lambert and ODK President Derrill Rohlfs meet with Jerry Reinsdorf in the Student Club.

Omicron Delta Kappa is the national honorary for men, with members selected from all phases of collegiate life who are in the top third of their class. Outstanding scholarship, as well as social and religious activities, publications, music, athletics, debate and dramatics constitute the inclusive qualifications for membership. Members are chosen also from the faculty on the basis of their contributions to University life, and their promotion of closer associations between students and faculty.

The new members are tapped semi-annually at the Homecoming Ball and at the Interfraternity Council Sing, with initiations into the Alpha Delta chapter taking place soon after tapping. Omicron Delta Kappa lives up to its title of "service honorary," particularly at the beginning of each year when it assists Mortar Board in conducting the "How to Study" Panel and contributes to the planning of Freshman Orientation Week. The president of ODK serves on the Student Life Committee.

ODK, through its membership selection, insures a good distribution and representation of all phases of collegiate life at the University.

Delphi was established to honor those sorority women who, in the opinion of Delphi and members of their own group, have made outstanding contributions to Greek life on campus and to individual Greek organizations. The members are tapped at the Panhellenic Sing in the spring after each sorority has chosen its representatives.

Members of Delphi then prepare a schedule of activities which begins with the organization and handling of Fall and Spring rush registration. During Orientation Week they give new women students a preview of campus attire at a fashion show presented at the Big Sisters "Tips 'n' Tea with Top-notchers." Later, after the Fall rushee becomes a pledge, Delphi sponsors a pledge workshop where the rush system, the advantages of sorority life and the universality of Greek organizations are discussed. Throughout the year luncheons are given to promote greater understanding among sorority women.

The many activities of Delphi revolved around its central purpose of developing panhellenic spirit among Greek organizations for women.

Delphi members socialize before meeting.

Delphi

Gate and Key

President Bruce Mencher announces new Gate and Key members at Homecoming.

Membership in Gate and Key is conferred upon those fraternity men on campus who have notably contributed to their individual organizations and to the entire fraternity system. Members are first nominated by their own fraternities and then elected by the active chapter of Gate and Key. Tapping takes place at the Homecoming Ball and at the Interfraternity Council Sing.

This organization, founded at the University, has expanded to take its place on such campuses as Penn State University, Maryland University and the College of William and Mary.

One of the most eagerly awaited events sponsored by Gate and Key is the annual award of the Order of the Lacy Garter. This presentation is made in the spring to honor one girl who has made the most outstanding contribution to University life. Easily recognized by their striped ribbons worn at all formal functions, the members of Gate and Key are no less famous for their initiations, parties and contributions to University social life. More important, Gate and Key members fulfill the purpose of their organization by developing greater interfraternity spirit and by working for the Greek fraternity system.

The Order of Scarlet was organized and founded in the Fall of 1956 as a service-honorary group for sophomore and junior men. The honorary was formed by Dr. Don C. Faith, Director of Men's Activities, and several campus leaders.

Several new service projects have been originated by the organization and are now in effect. A welcoming committee of Order of Scarlet members greets visiting athletic teams who come to the city to compete with the Colonials. Several members serve on a committee which helps at Student Union dances. A group of the men aid University organizations with publicity by taking care of mimeographing notices and announcements.

The first tapping of the Order of Scarlet was held at the University Dramatics presentation, Girl Crazy, in December, 1956.

The new Order of Scarlet's Board of Governors meet with Dr. Faith to discuss future plans.

Alpha Theta Nu

Alpha Theta Nu, a service organization as well as an honorary, was established for all those students who hold or have held scholarships at the University.

The many services performed by members of Alpha Theta Nu include ushering at events held in Lisner Auditorium, giving teas, helping during registration by maintaining booths and acting as guides and hosts to high school students who are prospective students at the University.

Alpha Theta Nu, through its many activities, provides much common ground for its very selective members.

Executive Board members pause before meeting.

Alpha Lambda Delta is the freshman honorary for women who have outstanding achievement in scholarship. As a prerequisite to membership, an average of 3.5 or above must have been attained during the freshman year.

Each year the senior women who have maintained a Q.P.I. of 3.5 or above for four years receive Senior Certificates. In addition, book awards are given to members of other classes with the highest averages.

Alpha Lambda Delta, which endeavors to promote good scholarship, accomplishes this purpose through its system of awards and through its social events, which include a reception for entering scholarship students.

Alpha Lambda Delta

Phi Eta Sigma

Freshmen men who earn a quality point index of 3.5 or above in their first semester at the University are eligible for membership in Phi Eta Sigma, honorary fraternity.

Initiates of Phi Eta Sigma remain members in the group until graduation from the University, and engage in service projects aimed toward helping students. Phi Eta Sigma cooperates with Alpha Lambda Delta and Alpha Theta Nu in joint projects, such as social functions for scholarship students during Fall Orientation Week.

Tassels, the sophomore women's honorary, selects its members on a basis of scholastic achievement and demonstrated leadership ability. An average of 2.6 for those who have participated in at least two activities or an average of 3.0 for those who have not is required of Tassels pledges.

New members are tapped at the Big Sisters "Tips 'n' Tea with Topnotchers" and are initiated in the spring after membership requirements have been met. With Mortar Board as their sponsor, the Tassels adopt a project yearly to help other University activities.

Alpha Pi Epsilon

FIRST ROW: S. Mitchell, M. Waller, M. Gorschboth, president, T. Parsons, R. Arnold, D. Wilborn.

Alpha Pi Epsilon, the home economics honorary fraternity, elects its members from the home economics majors at the University. Members must have a 2.5 quality point index and a 3.0 average in their home economics courses. Alpha Pi Epsilon, entering its 25th year at the University, sponsors the Home Economics Club.

Its meetings feature interesting lectures about many aspects of home economics. Many social events held throughout the year serve to bring the members who share common interests into closer association.

R. Hauk; V. Bowen; N. Rucker, president; V. Thornton; I. Krivickes; A. Szymczak; J. Thorne.

Iota Sigma Pi is the national chemistry honorary for women who have a quality point index of 3.0 and a B average for 20 hours of chemistry. The primary purpose of this organization is to promote interest in the field of chemistry, to encourage higher scholarship in the field and finally to unite women sharing a mutual interest in chemistry.

At their monthly meetings, guest speakers discuss current subjects concerned with chemistry.

A very interesting and enjoyable project of Iota Sigma Pi is the annual Lab Supper where members prepare and eat a meal using only their laboratory equipment.

—Complicated? Not to these ladies!

Iota Sigma Pi

Phi Delta Gamma is a professional honorary fraternity which welcomes women who are taking graduate or advanced professional courses. Members must meet the requirements of high scholarship, good character, co-operative spirit and leadership ability.

This organization is the only Greek-letter fraternity open to women of all professions. Members have the opportunity to meet women in other professions and to broaden their views by intergroup discussion.

Phi Delta Gamma advances standards in graduate studies, promotes high ideals among graduate women and discusses the professional and social status of career women.

Sigma Tau, founded at the University of Nebraska in 1904 and established at George Washington in 1921, is a national honorary engineering fraternity whose objectives are the promotion of scholastic ability, professional achievement, leadership and fellowship among students of engineering. Members must be in the upper third of the junior and senior classes and have demonstrated sociability and professional achievement.

An extremely important function of Sigma Tau is the counseling service it sponsors to provide assistance to any student who experiences difficulty in engineering courses.

In recognition of the importance and difficulty of the freshman year, Sigma Tau each year honors the sophomore engineering student who attained the highest grade average in his engineering courses during his freshman year.

Pre-meeting discussion by Engineers' Council Representative Palmasani, President Carlson, and Vice-President Schick.

The Student Council, aiming primarily to serve the student body, sponsors and controls all activities to provide each student with equal opportunities for participation in University activities.

This year the Council sponsored Homecoming, the Colonial Series, the Career Conference, the Campus Combo and all the activities included under these programs.

In performing their primary duty of supervising the activities of various campus organizations, the Council selects committee chairmen, makes rules and approves charters. The Freshman Director of the Council plans Orientation Week, while the Activities Director manages all the social, square and folk dances held in the Student Union.

During the summer the Council remains active by sponsoring the Summer Carnival. They also give aid to charitable organizations, supervise the Activities Fair and this year introduced a new event—the Senior Prom—held late in the spring.

The 1957 CHERRY TREE is the result of a year's work by the editorial and business staffs, and has been in the making since May, 1956.

Our office on the third floor of the Union Annex has been the scene of many conferences and work sessions, as we wrote and edited copy, captioned pictures, set up photography schedules and checked ad copy. The staff manned booths in the Union and in the Law, Engineering and Pharmacy schools, typed cards for the individual pictures photographer, sold books. It was work—but we had fun doing it!

We hope you enjoy the 1957 CHERRY TREE.

How do students keep up with the latest fashions? How do we know who won the last sailing meet? How do we find out the latest resolution of the Board of Trustees? How do we get the straight news on Foggy Bottom social life? Why, from the Hatchet, of course.

The University's indispensable student newspaper appears every Tuesday at noon. It is the product of a week's work by the Board of Editors, the sub-editors, the senior and junior staffs. The Hatchet offices are located on the first floor of the Student Union Annex, scene of feverish toil from Friday noon until Sunday evening, when the paper goes to press.

The Hatchet has a fine record of Associated Collegiate Press ratings, including many All-American Honor awards.

Dance Production Groups

Practice session for the Dance Production Group.

"Down the way where the nights are gay . . ."

The Dance Production Groups provide the fun and hard work of dancing plus the resulting good entertainment of their programs. New students made their first acquaintance with this talented group during Orientation Week when they attended the social and square dances.

As their main feature, the Modern Dance Concert held in the spring presented a series of dances produced by the students with the aid of Miss Burtner, director of dance.

Color and gaiety at the Summer Carnival, supplied by the University Dance Groups.

The Dance Production Groups helped provide unusual themes, decorations and entertainment at the Friday night social dances. Advanced dancers participated in the Pageant of Peace and in the Summer Carnival, co-sponsored by the Student Council. Other activities supported by this active group included May Day, the All U Follies, drama productions and many of the variety shows, indicating their cooperation and willingness to serve the University.

Looks easy, doesn't it? It is, for experienced dancers in Group I.

Dancing tells a story—this is "Campaign Ballyhoo," an original number presented in the 1956 Concert.

Drama Production Groups

The University Dramatic Activities not only provide excellent entertainment by giving three plays throughout the year, but also provide students who are interested in drama an opportunity to develop their talents.

The membership of this group is drawn primarily from University students although com-

Although they are called "Big Sisters," the many ways in which members of this organization assist and give guidance to new women students call for a more appropriate title. In her efforts to help a new girl become acquainted with University life, a Big Sis must utilize all her talents and experience as an expert on such subjects as activities, organizations, school curricula, registration, and "what they are wearing."

Old Men

Welcome to GW: President Ray Garcia demonstrates the friendly approach of Old Men.

Old Men, the male counterpart of Big Sisters, was organized two years ago to acquaint new men students with the University. First on the agenda this fall was the "Glad Hand Greeting" followed by a "Celebrity Smoker." As the names imply, these events welcomed the "sons" and introduced them to men active in campus activities.

Socially, the Big-Sis-Old Men Mixer started new students off on the right foot for the Orientation Week square dance which followed.

Membership qualifications include a QPI of 2.0 and one activity. At quarterly meetings programs are planned, and an annual workshop is held with Big Sisters.

Old Men has expanded in membership as well as in programs and activities, all pointing toward future success.

"Hail to the Buff," "The Blue Danube Waltz," "You Ain't Nothin' But A Hound Dog"—you name it, and if the University Band can't play it, they'll learn it!

The Band provides excellent music for such school events as variety shows, the Summer Carnival, Football and basketball games and other programs. Their majorettes and peppy marches contribute greatly toward school spirit at Pep Rallies as well as entertaining spectators at athletic events.

The "Bandsman of the Year" Award and band letters are presented to deserving members annually.

The University Band, with its hard work and contributions toward so many activities, has become a valuable addition to campus life.

Campus Combo

Impromptu scene from the Combo's Colonial Cruise, a spring all-University event.

The Campus Combo, one of the more recent innovations at the University, is coordinated by the Campus Combo Executive Committee and embraces all the major campus activities. This year it included Homecoming, Colonial Boosters membership, Winter Weekend, the Fashion Show, the Colonial Cruise and Modern Dance and Drama productions.

After a vigorous and successful sales campaign launched in the fall, the Combo achieved its aim of contributing toward the success of campus activities.

The Combo operates under the supervision of the Student Council, which yearly chooses Combo Co-Chairmen to guide the sales and all administrative matters pertaining to the Combo ticket.

Strong Hall Council, the governing body of Strong Hall, organizes all the business and social activities of the women's dormitory. The Council, consisting of two delegates from each floor and a president, enforces dorm regulations, handles complaints and makes students feel comfortable in a home-like atmosphere.

The season of social events opens with Orientation Week parties and an Open House to which all students of the University are invited. Later, teas are given to honor faculty members and exchanges between floors are held.

Among the many holidays celebrated in the dorm are Thanksgiving, Halloween and Christmas, when a tree is decorated by Strong Hall girls.

Strong Hall Council

A new dormitory for freshman women was opened last September on H Street. The remodeled home is known as the Freshman Club, and serves as an auxiliary to the women's dormitory, Strong Hall.

The Freshman Club has its own dormitory council, fashioned after the Strong Hall Council. Miss Virginia Sherard serves as resident director of the Club, with Sandra Shoemaker as her assistant.

The Freshman Club's bright rooms and gracious living room add to its charm and insure comfort to students entering the University for the first time.

The Women's Coordinating Board was founded for the purpose of supplying information about University events and to coordinating all women's groups on campus.

One delegate from each women's organization served on the Board, which met weekly in Woodhull House. Service projects such as the "Clothes for Korea" Drive were handled by WCB. In order to spark the Drive, WCB originated the "Rag Doll King and Queen Contest," in which the candidates whose sponsoring organizations contributed the largest amounts of clothes won the contest.

An important part of every University's organizational life is its religious activities. The Religious Council coordinates these activities.

Students make their first acquaintance with the Religious Council during Orientation Week, when a reception is given by the Council providing them with opportunities to meet religious advisors and members of other religious organizations.

The members of the council, two delegates from each of the religious groups on campus, sponsor Religion-in-Life Week which has been very successful each year. Featured at this time are outstanding speakers, panel discussions, religious services, and a Skeptics Hour, all designed to bring religion to the minds of the students.

Religious Council

Wesley Club

The Wesley Club is the Methodist student organization at the University. The group meets in Building O, participates in the Religious Council's "Religion-in-Life Week," and sends its own representative to the Council.

The Wesley Club is an important part of the Methodist Student Movement, and invites any student or faculty member of the University to join. Scheduled business, worship and recreational activities are conducted throughout the year, and Wesleyans help support the University Chapel programs with their attendance.

The B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation, one of the most active and interesting organizations at G. W., was founded primarily to provide religious, cultural and social activities for Jewish students.

To fulfill their religious purposes, Sabbath Day and High Holiday services are held. Charity drives and discussion groups help members realize the values of religion, charity and fellowship.

Each year Hillel presents its annual "Ball o' Fire." This popular dance is attended by all students and features the well-known "Mr. Apollo" contest.

The journalistic side is not overlooked by these tireless students who publish their own newspaper, the Hillel Commentary, and sponsor a creative writing contest.

The Hillel Foundation places an emphasis on cultural values through lectures, forums, courses in Hebrew, arts, drama and choral groups.

The Newman Club, one of the most active organizations on campus, unites Catholic students and enables them to enrich their own lives by gaining a firm knowledge of their faith. Bi-weekly lectures and discussion groups, Sunday Mass and Communion Breakfasts and active participation in Religion-in-Life Week programs contribute greatly toward this end.

Although primarily a religious organization, the Newman Club also has a busy social life. At Homecoming, they enter the float contest, sponsor a candidate for Homecoming Queen and later hold their annual Christmas party.

In the spring, the Newman Club sponsors the Celebrity Capers at which time ten outstanding seniors are honored and presented Certificates of Merit.

The Women's Athletic Association, through its many activities, promotes sports-consciousness and recreational leadership among women on campus. Included in a diversified program designed to appeal to most tastes are the "Scotch Foursome" golf tournaments, a swimming meet and bowling, hockey and basketball tournaments.

WAA sponsors a Sports Day with nearby colleges and holds Fall and Spring Sports Awards Banquets at which awards designed to uphold standards in recreation are presented. The Outstanding Senior Athlete and the Athlete of the Year are recognized, and letter awards are given on the basis of a point system devised to develop a better spirit of competition and enthusiasm.

The Chemistry Club, open to any student who is taking or has taken one course in chemistry, endeavors to stimulate interest in chemistry and develop knowledge of its related fields.

To achieve these aims and to promote outside interest in them, the Club presents many activities and programs, including lectures, field trips and other demonstrations, which are open to the entire University as well as to Chemistry Club members.

The chemistry forum of the annual Career Conference is sponsored by this group, whose members benefit from association with others who share their interests.

The Columbian Women was organized in 1894 as the University's first organization for women. Its aim as declared at that time was "the advancement of women by founding for them scholarships in various departments of the University and by all other means and also by promotion of the interests of the University." Two-thirds of the annual dues are allotted to the scholarship program.

The membership of the group is composed of students and former students of the University, members of the Board of Trustees, faculty and administrative staff of the University and women who have received honorary degrees from the University.

During the past year Mrs. O. S. Colclough was hostess for a reception at her home where the Assistant to the President, Mr. Max Farrington, reported on the University Development Program; and Mrs. Clyod H. Marvin entertained the organization at a Christmas party in Lisner Auditorium.

Future Teachers of America

The Future Teachers of America is a professional organization for students in the School of Education. The purpose of the group is to foster interest in the teaching profession and to provide information pertaining to the profession for students who plan to make teaching their careers.

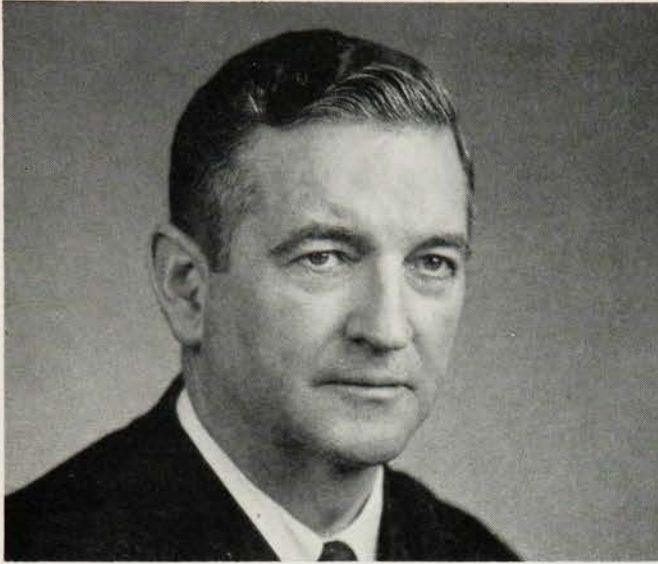

Membership in the National Educational Association develops professional spirit among the Future Teachers. Their meetings often include speeches by prominent figures in education. These speeches are helpful to members in their understanding of the place of the teacher in the modern world, and are on such topics as "The Teacher and Mental Health."

General Alumni Association

THE HONORABLE JAMES R. KIRKLAND
President, General Alumni Association

The General Alumni Association, the organization representing the University's nearly 30,000 living graduates, plays a dynamic roll in the development of The George Washington University.

During the past year, under the leadership of President James R. Kirkland, the Association has provided every graduate with an opportunity to continue his fellowship with fellow alumni, to interest young men and women in attending the University and to contribute financially to the growth of their Alma Mater.

Highlights of the past year have included the Association's sponsorship of Homecoming Symposium, Regional Club meetings, the Annual Alumni Fund and the Annual Alumni Luncheon. Graduates of the University are invited to come active members in the Association. A contribution to the Annual Alumni Fund constitutes annual membership.

Other affiliated alumni organizations which offer membership to graduates are: Columbian Women, Engineer Alumni Association, Law Alumni Association, Medical Society, Pharmacy Alumni Association, The Colonials, Inc., The Lettermen Club, Women's Physical Education Alumni Association.

Students majoring in business administration, commerce or economics find their interests well represented in Alpha Kappa Psi. The oldest and first organization of its kind, Alpha Kappa Psi has a fourfold purpose. Although it aims to promote the welfare of its members, this group also encourages scientific research in commerce, accounting, finance and associated fields.

Alpha Kappa Psi also endeavors to promote the demand in colleges for courses in business administration and education of the public toward greater appreciation of the ideals of business. The Business Administration forum at the annual Career Conference encourages the achievement of these ideals.

Alpha Zeta Omega

President E. J. Korn and A. B. Berger.

Alpha Zeta Omega Pharmaceutical Fraternity was founded in 1919 by eleven students of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science. Today the fraternity has over twenty-five chapters throughout the nation.

The underlying purpose of the fraternity is the advancement, through mutual aid, of its members engaged in the pharmaceutical profession. This idea is continually practiced, as evidenced by the local scholarship award, presented annually at a dinner honoring the recipient, and the National Culture Fund.

Socially, Alpha Zeta Omega offers dances and dinners, thus providing undergraduates an opportunity to become acquainted with others in their profession.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club offers opportunities to interested students to make use of the arts they have learned in class.

This organization often features guest speakers, educational programs and social functions designed to aid them in the practical application of home economics. At Christmas a trip is made to the Children's ward at Gallinger Hospital.

The Home Ec Club, sponsored by Alpha Pi Epsilon, is significant of the many interests represented in organizations at The George Washington University.

Council members meet at the Vault for the Future, located in front of the new engineering building, Tomkins Hall.

The Engineers Council is the student governing body of the School of Engineering and represents the students in all matters pertaining to student activities.

Council membership is composed of one faculty adviser and eighteen student members. Elections are held in April of each year, and representatives take office in May for a term of one year.

The Council sponsors the Engineers' Mixer and the Engineers' Banquet and Ball each year. In addition, this year the Council sponsored a student handbook for new students of the School of Engineering, periodical movies and lectures and a Homecoming float which won first place in its division.

Joint Branch AIEE & IRE

"Are you sure it isn't this one?"

Operating as a joint branch, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers are the two student professional organizations of Electrical Engineering. Although these societies operate as a joint branch at the University, they are independent societies, and a student may join either or both of them.

The AIEE, founded in 1884, promotes the advancement of theory and practice in electrical engineering and the maintenance of high professional standards among its members.

The IRE, founded in the infancy of radio communication, is devoted to the advancement of theory and practice in communications, electronics and related fields.

During the year, the joint branch sponsors lectures by engineers in government and industry and movies designed to inform students of new developments in their field.

The American Society of Civil Engineers was founded in 1852, and the student chapter at the University was established in 1923.

The purpose of ASCE is to supplement theoretical knowledge in the field of civil engineering with practical knowledge. To accomplish this aim, the Society holds field trips and lectures throughout the year.

The highlight of this year's activity was the ASCE Convention at which the University's chapter played host to the chapters from Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland.

Founded nationally in 1880, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers now includes over fifty thousand members. The George Washington chapter, one of 135 student branches, is open to all students interested in mechanical engineering.

ASME's activities include movies and lectures by outstanding men in the field. Through this program the student gains an introduction to engineering and an opportunity to discuss new developments with top, professional men. An annual contest open to all undergraduate students in the branch is the ASME prize paper contest, held for the purpose of encouraging original research and study by students.

Don't touch that dial!

Theta Tau is the oldest engineering fraternity in the country. It was founded at the University of Minnesota in 1904, and now has twenty-three chapters in engineering schools and colleges throughout the country. Gamma Beta Chapter was established at the University in 1935.

The purpose of Theta Tau is to promote a high standard of professional interest among student engineers and to unite students in various fields of engineering with fraternal friendship.

Theta Tau's social schedule includes banquets, balls, picnics and other parties throughout the year.

Editor Hobbs discusses publication procedures with Law Review members.

The George Washington Law Review is a bi-monthly publication devoted to federal and state public law, and consists of articles on current legal problems by prominent authorities in the field of public law, as well as commentaries by students on recent decisions in the federal and state courts.

The publication has become well-known throughout the legal profession and law schools for its full and accurate coverage and evaluation of occurrences in public law.

The Law Review is edited by the faculty and students of the Law School. Its board of student editors is chosen each year on the basis of scholarship.

RIFLE SQUADRON

The Cadet Staff on review at the Lincoln Memorial,
December 12, 1956.

The Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps has its mission "to select and prepare students through a permanent program of instruction to serve as commissioned officers in the Air Force Reserve." Under the direction of Colonel Carl Swyter, Director of the Division of Air Science, the program of instruction is integrated with that of the University to produce leaders for both the military and civilian life.

All cadets attend classes and leadership laboratory sessions where they are taught subjects which will aid them in their future careers.

In addition to the regular curriculum the Corps also participates in such events as escorting the Homecoming Queen candidates and representing the University in many civic functions.

The organization of the various flights of cadets is under the command of Cadet Colonel Charles M. Hunter III. The George Washington University detachment is divided into squadrons which are further divided into flights. This division allows each cadet to acquaint himself with the administration and operation which is used in actual Air Force units. It further gives every advanced cadet an opportunity to assume positions of leadership.

The George Washington University detachment has the honor of being one of ten universities in the United States to offer officer training to college women. WAF "Cadettes" enrolled in the program are given essentially the same training as men and are awarded commissions as Second Lieutenants in the United States Air Force Reserve upon successful completion of the training program.

Among the activities associated with the Division of Air Science of the University is the Arnold Air Society, a national honorary military society for the advanced course cadets. The Society was activated at the University in the Fall of 1952. The University unit was named in honor of General Carl Spaatz, the first Air Force Chief of Staff. Serving as a hub for cadet activities, the Arnold Air Society sponsors several social functions, one of which is the annual Military Ball.

Another national military society, mainly for basic cadets, is the Pershing Rifles, established here in March, 1953. Led by Cadet Major Wade S. Algee, the Pershing Rifles maintains an expert drill team and provides social activities for its members. In addition to participation in University and civic functions, the Pershing Rifles has taken part in drill meets with other A.F.R.O.T.C units to widen the scope of its training. With Captain Harold Henthorne as advisor, the Pershing Rifles hope to maintain, and even surpass, previous records.

ANGEL FLIGHT

Lt. Virginia Bernhisel, with Angel Flight members Janet Marshall, Carol Wilson, Nancy Bealle and Ann Bageant.

In addition to these groups there is an A.F.R.O.T.C. Rifle Team which participates in many inter-school meets during the school year and provides excellent training in marksmanship. The team was established in 1951.

The Colonial Cadet, A.F.R.O.T.C student publication, is published monthly. This is a newspaper written by and for the Cadet Corps. It is headed by PIO Cadet Major Eldon Taylor and advised by Lieutenant Virginia Bernheisel.

Identified by a pair of miniature silver wings, the Flying Sponsors Squadron is made up of girls who "give active and wholehearted assistance to all military and social functions of the George Washington University Air Force R.O.T.C. Corps of Cadets and perform any other tasks necessary to further the mission of the Air Force R.O.T.C."

Another very important organization within the Corps of Cadets is the "Angel Flight". This unit, established at the suggestion of University President Cloyd H. Marvin, has proven very popular with University women. The members participate in the leadership laboratory portion of the A.F.R.O.T.C. program and accrue the benefits of leadership training development provided the officer candidates without any military obligations. The "charter" members of the organization were presented with engraved medallions by President Marvin at a recent formal review.

Miss Charlene McDonald, Editor
The 1957 Cherry Tree
2408 Lyons Street, S. E.
Washington 21, D. C.

Dear Miss McDonald:

Although my job requires me to consider a great many very attractive women, in both photographs and in person, selecting the 1957 Cherry Tree Queen, and her two Princesses, was no easy task. Perhaps the job itself jades me somewhat and makes it more difficult for me to select one beauty over another, the quantity dulling the taste. At any rate, the editing of PLAYBOY is a most enjoyable job and I very much enjoyed, too, the opportunity to pick your Queen and Princesses from among the twelve candidates.

Your giving me a candid shot as well as a formal portrait helped a great deal. From these, I have selected Miss Buena Miller, sponsored by Chi Omega, as the 1957 Cherry Tree Queen. For her two Princesses, I've chosen Janet Marshall, sponsored by Kappa Alpha Theta and Anne Leone, sponsored by the Wandering Greeks Society.

I want to thank you for the opportunity of serving as judge and may this year's Cherry Tree Queen prove as popular with the students of George Washington University as PLAYBOY's Playmates are with college students throughout the U. S.

Cordially,

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

The Colonials opened the '56 gridiron season with a 7-6 upset victory over a strong Miami University eleven from Oxford, Ohio. The Redskins, boasting a string of ten straight victories carried over from the perfect record compiled in 1955, were surprised by a determined G. W. defense which repeatedly repelled the Red-skin threats.

The partisan crowd of 6,500 saw their hopes of another undefeated season crushed at 9:05 of the 4th quarter when Pete Spera shook loose from the Miami defenders to snare a 43 yd. spiral from Q. B. Jack Henzes putting the ball on the opponents 3-yard stripe. After two unsuccessful cracks at the line, Q. B. Henzes bowled over on 3rd down to vault the Colonials into a 6-0 lead. Spera converted the extra point, supplying the margin of victory.

With little time remaining, Miami roared downfield to score the tying touchdown, with substitute halfback Harold Williams circling left end to score. Tackle Don Smith kicked the extra point to deadlock the score temporarily, but Miami was caught holding. Penalized back 15 yards, Smith booted again, but his attempt fell short, and the score stood 7-6 with little over a minute remaining.

Except for the scoring play, G. W. was bottled up in their own territory most of the day, content on stopping Miami's scoring threats. However, the Colonials did threaten once in the second half following the kick-off. Sommer fumbled the kick but recovered nicely to sneak to the G. W. 22. Following two unsuccessful line plunges, Looney attempted a pass which was overthrown, but pass interference was detected, moving the ball out to the 35. The keeper play, Looney's favorite, netted him 22 yards to the Red-skin 43. Sommer streaked for 4 on a handoff, and Looney, throwing his first pass of the game, connected with Thompson for a short gain to the 32. A fourth down pass from Looney to Thompson was 3 yards short of a first down, and the Redskins took over.

Tom Dimitroff, mixing his plays well, led the team on a 56-yard drive to the Colonial 19 early in the 4th quarter. At this point, Coach Sherman yanked his A unit and inserted a fired-up B squad.

FIRST ROW: Coach Andy Davis, R. Murray, B. McHenry, T. Leneki, B. Zaleskie, B. Sutton, P. Thompson, B. Austin, B. Tomeykowski, O. Varley, B. Jewett, B. Berry. SECOND ROW: Coach Andy Kalen, J. Elliot, D. Herman, J. Hince, E. Rutsch, M. Hoar, B. Shuba, B. Frulla, E. Sakach, D. Bonieskie, F. Gleason, P. Spera, Coach Jim Fuella. THIRD ROW: Coach Ray Hanken, Trainer Harry Ledford, B. Brackbill, R. Looney, T. Colna, M. Ennis, D. Harkleroad, B. DeLaVergne, D. Liddick, J. Ksock, M. Sommer, J. Henzes, D. Claypool, Coach Bob Sturm, Head Coach Bo Sherman, Manager Ado Valge.

The change proved effective, for on second down, Ted Colna intercepted Dimitroff's jump pass halting the Miami threat.

"The Redskins thought they'd scalp the Buff, but G. W. U. called their bluff."

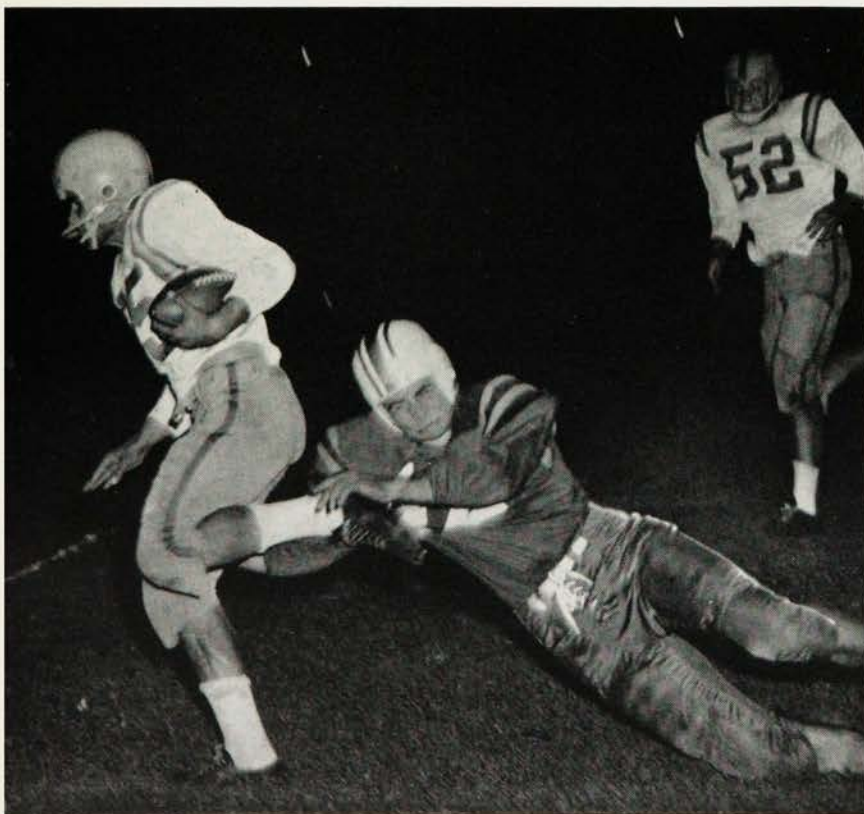

The Colonials had to be content with a 10-0 victory over Furman Univ. in a Saturday night game played at Greenville, South Carolina. The Hurricanes, usually pushovers in Southern Conference play, offered stiff competition to the Colonials who, after scoring the first time they had the ball, were outplayed by the outmanned Furman squad. Not until Dick Claypool kicked a 12-yard field goal in the closing minutes of the game did the Bull nail down the victory.

The Hurricanes looked more like a summer breeze in the first quarter as the Colonials, sparked by their clever field General, Ray Looney, scored the first time they got the ball. Furman, attempting an inside kick, met an unwilling customer in Ed Sakach, who quickly fell on the ball on the G. W. 43.

On the 1st play from scrimmage, Looney surprised the Southerners with a quick pitch out to Sommer who tossed to Paul Thompson on the Furman 44. Looney kept himself for 4 and then got the 1st down on a 7-yard pitch to Thompson. Spera, replacing the injured Sommer, bolted five yards followed by Austin who went 7 yards before being halted at the 17. Looney stuck to the ground calling on H. B. Dick Claypool who responded with a vital 11-yard dash to the six. Spera gained two, Claypool 2 more, and Looney drove to the one. On fourth down, Looney sneaked over, and Claypool converted to give G. W. a 7-0 lead.

Furman caught fire in the second quarter, and only a super effort by the determined "B" squad line preserved the shut-out. The Hurricanes, punting on 4th down, got a good break when a G. W. defender was detected roughing the kicker, giving Furman 15 yards and an automatic first down. Jim Penland, fleet Furman H.B., scampered 25 yards to the 15. From there, Q.B. Bill Baker passed to end Ray Siminsky who fell at the 4-yard stripe.

Bill McHenry brings down Miami ball carrier.

Pete Spera recovers fumble in Miami game.

Following a scoreless 3rd quarter, Furman came to life again early in the last stanza. After intercepting Looney's pass on their own 49, the Hurricanes drove to the Buff 24. Once again the "B" line thwarted a scoring threat, and preserved the thin 7-0 lead.

The "B" team then got their own offensive machine in gear and marched 76 yards downfield, culminating the drive with a 3 pointer by Claypool. This clinched the game and gave G.W. a 1-0 record in conference play.

"Hail to the Buff", played the band,

As the Colonials made a goal line stand."

Slingshot Sammy Baugh had his "homecoming" spoiled as his previously high scoring Cowboys were lassoed by a defense-minded G.W. outfit to the tune of 13-7.

Bob Shuba is brought down after long gain.

Hardin-Simmons showed a powerful offensive punch when operating between their own 20 and the G.W. 15, but lacked the scoring punch when it counted. Statistically, it was a Hardin-Simmons game all the way as the Cowboys outgained the Colonials 402 yards to 189, besides controlling the ball 84 plays as compared with only 54 for G.W. But statistics don't win ball games as the final 13-7 score indicates.

It was simply a case of G.W. taking advantage of every break that was offered, and making few mistakes of their own. The Colonials first score came as Simmons fumbled a 4th down punt with the happy result being a G.W. 1st down on the Cowboys 6 with 3 G.W. linemen resting comfortably on the ball. Pete Spera was stifled momentarily with a 6-yard loss back to the 12, but more than made up the yardage with a 12-yard bolt through the line for a T.D. Claypool missed the try for the P.A.T. but G.W. led 6-0.

Bo Austin stomps out yardage.

Following the second half kickoff Hardin-Simmons had to relinquish possession and the Cowboy's Q.B. "Model A" Ford punted 52 yards to the G.W. 24. On third down Dick Claypool made a daring catch of a pass from Looney, operating from the H.B. slot, moving the ball to the enemy 48 as Looney drove for 7 to the 41. Henzes was injured on the next play and Looney moved back to Q.B. to pilot the G.W. offense to their 2nd T.D. Ray lugged the leather himself for 14 yards to the 27, and called on Pete Spera for gains of 3 and 11 yards advancing to the Texans' 13. Shuba then burst for 11 long yards to the 2, and then barreled over on 3rd down to score. Claypool converted successfully and G.W. led 13-0 at the end of the 3rd quarter.

Hardin-Simmons finally got rolling in the final stanza, but it proved to be late. The Cowboys gained 11 first downs to 0 for G.W. in this quarter, but managed to score only one time. This came on an 82-yard march directed by Ford, who finally showed the form that placed him 6th among the nation's passers in 1956. He connected on 3 for 4 passes totaling 50 yards in this final drive which saw H.S. back Dewey Bohling smash the final yard to T.D. territory with only 1:45 left. The final score read 13-7 and a frustrated Hardin-Simmons team retreated to the greener pastures of Texas.

With Mike Sommer showing his form of old, G.W. put on their best offensive show of the season, only to have a few key mistakes cost them a victory, and the Colonials had to settle for a 20-20 tie with Boston U.

Leading 20-13 early in the 4th quarter, Pete Spera dropped back into punt formation at his own 28. To Spera's surprise the snap from center sailed well over Pete's head. The speedy Spera retrieved the ball in the end zone and weaved his way back to his own 29, but at this point the B.U. Terriers took over. In 6 plays the Terriers had scored and deadlocked the game 20 to 20.

This was only one of the many G.W. errors adding to four lost fumbles and three intercepted passes. All was not darkness, however, as G.W., through most of the contest displayed a brilliant running attack in piling up their biggest score to date. Boston took the lead with only a few minutes gone in first quarter, scoring on a 40-yard run by Larry Fennessy. G. W. bounced back and marched 66 yards to go ahead 7-6 on a 22-yard scoring pass from Looney to Bill Berry. The drive was sparked by runs of 31, 3, and 12 yards from Mike Sommer.

The final G.W. tally came in the 3rd quarter on a 4-yard pitch to Thompson via Looney. This capped a 65-yard scoring drive. The 7-point margin proved too slim, however, as the Terriers bounced back with seconds remaining to knot the score.

Look out, ref!

"Lack of offense was not the trouble,
As one bad center broke the bubble."

G.W. flexed their muscles and rolled to a 40-14 victory over V.M.I. giving the Buff an impressive 4-0-1 record, and leaving them ambitious for an undefeated season.

The Keydets were never in the one-sided contest as the Colonials racked up 6 touchdowns, piling up 379 yards on the ground and 101 yards in the air. The massive G.W. line opened huge gaps in their opponents defense enabling Ted Colna to gain 90 yards in 12 attempts, Mike Sommer 74 in 9 tries, Pete Spera 74 in 11 carries, and Dick Claypool 54 yards in 8 blasts. Ray Looney contributed to the humiliation by passing for 4 completions in 5 tries for 89 yards and 2 touchdowns.

Coach Sherman substituted freely in the final quarter in an effort to hold the score down, and as a result V.M.I. managed to push across 2 quick T.D.'s in the final frame. They came a bit too late.

"The Keydet rally came much too late;
G.W. had already sealed their fate."

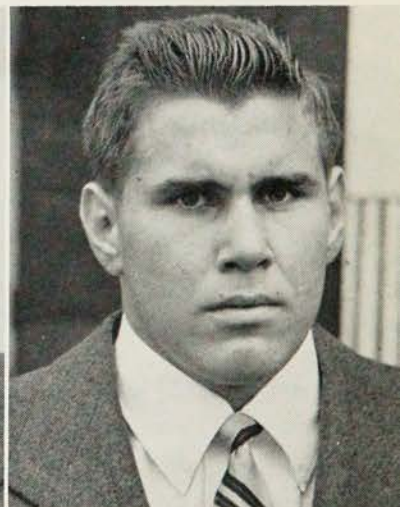

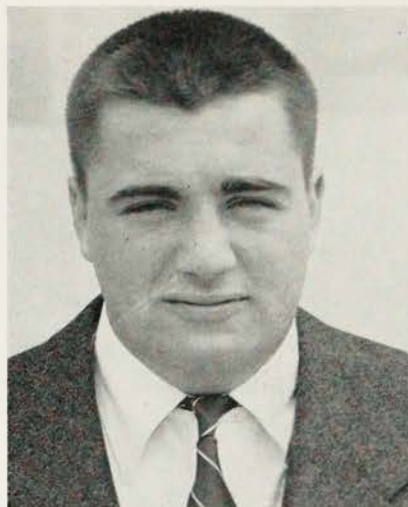

Dick Claypool's 19-yard field goal provided the slim margin of victory, as G.W. squeaked to a 16-14 win over a valiant W&M eleven. The win gave G.W. their first Homecoming victory since 1949 and preserved the Colonials undefeated record.

Ted Colna and Don Herman paced the 1st half attack. Colna, who brought a 4.6 average into the contest, personally accounted for 28 of the 32 yards in the first T.D. drive, while Herman grabbed a ten-yard scoring pass to cross the stripe with the 2nd score.

Scoring twice in the second half, and threatening many more times, the Indians were finally stopped in the final minute when Bo Austin made a timely interception after W&M had advanced to their own 41. The mud-soaked Colonials then happily ran out the clock.

"Our heroes won so we won't fret;

G.W.'s best: Ed Sakach, Dave Liddick, and Bo Austin. For the first time in history, three G.W. players have been drafted by professional football teams.

Don Herman snares long pass from quarterback Jack HENZES in V.M.I. game.

Even though we got soakin' wet."

The Mountaineers from West Virginia smothered the G.W. offense completely, winning a 14-0 game easily before 22,000 rabid West Virginia fans.

Dominating play throughout the game, the Mountaineers pushed the Buff all over the field and administered G.W.'s first defeat of the year. In fact, the Colonials didn't get a first down until late in the 3rd quarter.

G.W. threatened only once in the contest. With but a minute and a half remaining in the game, Ray Looney pitched out to Sommer who tossed a 51-yard pass to Claypool which carried to the West Virginia 3. The Mountaineer defense stiffened and turned back 2 G.W. thrusts, and a last down pass intended for Thompson was deflected. Time ran out and the final score read 14-0.

G.W.'s defensive line showed well despite the setback. With Bob Frulla and Dave Liddick leading the charge, the Buff line made a heroic defensive stand near the end of the half. The Mountaineers had the ball on the G.W. 31. On the first play W.V.U. was penalized 15 yards to the 46. Szuchs was then hit for an 8-yard loss. A clipping penalty pushed West Virginia back 15 more yards to the 31. Szuchs tried another pass and was thrown back 11 more yards to the 20. This left the Mountaineers with fourth down and 60 yards to go for a first down!

"Here went the hopes of unbeaten glory;

The Mountaineer power told the story."

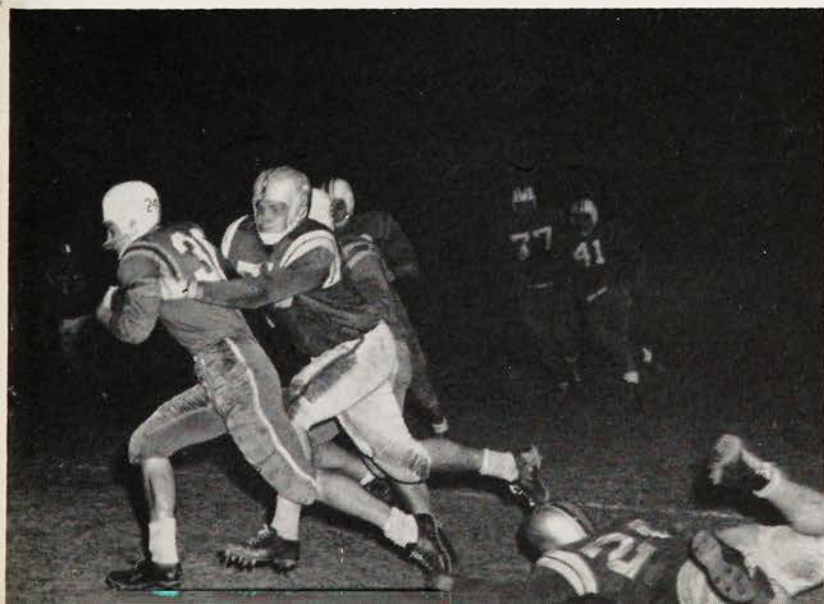

The Colonials closed out the season with an unimpressive 20-0 over the stubborn Bulldogs of the Citadel. The battling Bulldogs held the highly favored Buff to a scoreless deadlock at half, before the superior G.W. power burst loose in the final quarter.

The first Colonial score came in the 3rd quarter following a fumble recovery by Ed Sakach on the Citadel 22. After three offensive plays had netted but 2 yards, Looney uncorked a 4th down pass to Thompson on the nine. Austin drove to the one on 2 keeper plays, and Looney finished the job on the next play. Claypool missed the P.A.T.

The 2nd score came early in the 4th quarter as a result of a beautifully executed option play which saw Looney weave his way 51 yards to a score. Spera converted and G.W. led 13-0.

Another long run set up the final score, as Spera streaked 53 yards to the Bulldog 10. On the next play G.W. Captain, Bo Austin, raced the final 10 yards to sew up the victory.

Sun Bowl—1957

It was a very happy New Year! G.W.'s gridmen invaded Texas and captured the Sun Bowl classic from a favored Texas Western team to complete the most successful football season in Colonial history.

Not since 1936, when the Buff also compiled a 7-1-1 record in regular season play, has a G.W. team fared so well. The 1956 squad had the added distinction of finishing 16th in the A.P. poll, of winning the first Homecoming game in seven years, and of capturing a Sun Bowl victory.

It was a fired-up G.W. team on January 1, and the inspired Colonials completely outclassed a highly-rated Texas Western team in what the experts termed a 13-0 "upset" victory. The Buff apparently were unimpressed by the pre-game odds, which established the Miners as two-touchdown favorites, and the newspaper accounts, which implied that the Sun Bowl selection committee had so effectively that Texas Western was limited to but 168 offensive yards, their longest gain being a 16-yard run. The Miners weren't allowed to break into the open. They never actually made a serious scoring threat, and their few penetrations across midfield were quickly repelled.

The Miners' tackles were getting the worst of it from the likes of tackles Dave Liddick and Bob Jewett. The guards fared no better with their opposites Ed Sakach and Bob Sutton. We were just too big and too tough, and despite the much-publicized "thin air," our Colonial forward wall did not tire as was expected, but seemed to gain in strength as the game progressed.

But the story was not told completely in the line, as G.W.'s backfield can boast of some heroics of its own. Bo Austin, the fullback and workhorse of the Colonial backfield, was named the game's Most Valuable Player for his great offensive work and his alert and bruising line-backing. In 20 carries he gained 108 yards to lead in individual ground gains. Austin did most of G.W.'s punting, recovered one of Texas Western's fumbles and chosen a second-class outfit that the lighter but faster Texans would easily dominate. How wrong they were! G.W. not only shackled the Miners' speed, forcing them into errors and breaking through their defense with apparent ease, but also they handed the high-scoring Texans their first shut-out in 44 games!

Texas Western, which had compiled a fine 9-1 record in Border Conference play, found the beefy G.W. line a brick wall on defense. Before a stunned crowd of 15,000 Texas rooters, the Buff line contained the Miner offense had the longest run from scrimmage, with a 15-yard dash that set up his team's second TD.

Ray Looney, who turned in a superb effort at the quarterback slot, with not far behind Austin in the voting, as he quarterbacked all but five plays and was a terror at defensive halfback. The nine-man Texas line, employed in desperation by the erratic Miners, failed to worry Looney as he continued to call on Austin, Dick Claypool and Ted Colna to smack out the yardage at tackle and control the ball for most of the game.

George Washington scored in the first period after missing an earlier opportunity from the one-foot line. It came on a 35-yard pass from Looney to senior end Paul Thompson. The big end, catching his third TD pass of the season, turned for the ball at the right moment and snatched it out of the eager hands of Bob Forrest at the ten. From there, Thompson raced the final ten yards and G.W. led 6-0, Claypool's conversion going wild.

The Colonials didn't score again until early in the fourth period, when G.W. took over on the Texas Western 36 following a pass interception by Colna. Austin broke through tackle, carrying to the 18. On the first play of the fourth quarter, Looney faded back and hit Don Herman, who leaped high at the five to wrestle the ball away from three defenders. Austin cracked tackle to the three, and Spera pulled the short yardage for the TD. This time Claypool converted successfully and the score read 13-0.

Even Texas Western's most rabid rooters must have felt this was the clinching TD, even though there was a full period remaining to be played. The way the G.W. offense was operating, the 13 points might just as well have been 50, for Texas Western's few threads were minimized by the hard-charging, hard-to-fool G.W. linemen.

So complete was G.W.'s domination of the Miners in the first half that Texas Western was limited to seven yards rushing and 16 passing. Coach Mike Brumbelow of Texas Western admitted afterward that his Miners hadn't run into a team as tough as the Colonials.

The Buff pass defenses, generally good all season, were excellent that day. Texas Western's speedy ends were blanketed by two defenders on every play, which is quite a feat when the passer is also being rushed. Texas Western was allowed only two completions in 16 tries and had three passes intercepted.

The Colonials also blocked one Texas Western punt and recovered two fumbles. A fumble recovery by Thompson on Texas Western's nine shortly after the opening kick-off gave the Colonials their first scoring chance, but they were stopped less than a foot from the goal.

Later in the period they got another opportunity, after tackle Bob Jewett blocked a punt on the 31. The attack bogged down on the seven as three passing attempts by Looney and intended for Mike Sommer and Thompson missed by inches.

A fumble recovery by end Fran Gleason and a pass interception by Claypool helped kill off the Miner's late desperation attacks. The recovery by Gleason on G.W.'s 44 was turned into a drive to the Texas Western 17, where a field goal attempt by Claypool was blocked. But three points this late in the game would only have added insult to injury.

The gun sounded and the jubilant G-Streeters carried Coach Sherman off the Kidd Stadium field with G.W.'s finest gridiron victory.

Basketball

Unaccustomed to anything but exceptional basketball teams, G.W. fans this year witnessed an inexperienced Colonial team grope through an arduous season. There was none of last year's glory of the Maryland Invitational Tournament championship nor of reaching the finals of the Southern Conference Championship. Rather there was the ignominy of two sound thrashings in the Cincinnati Tournament and a lackluster 3 wins and 21 losses record.

The shortcomings of the team could definitely be attributed to lack of experience. Potentially the Buffs had a very fine team, but once on the court it was a different story. The starting five, comprised of sophomores except for John Jolly and playing together for the first season, were not able to successfully coordinate their efforts.

Losing their first four games, G.W. got off to its worst start since the 1928-1929 season. Although the Buffs got their first victory over V.M.I. relatively early in the season—December 17, their next win was not to come for over a month when they again mastered this same team. Meanwhile they had been floored by their two intown rivals, Maryland and Georgetown, by scores of 68-48 and 85-61 respectively.

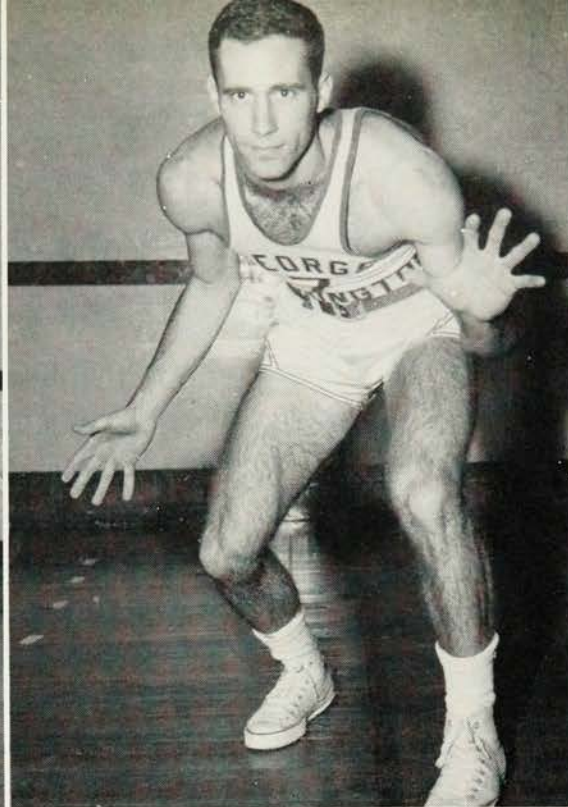

It was not until the first loss inflicted by V.P.I.

that any marked improvement appeared. The team started to work as a unit, ball-handling was smoother, shots were better set up. The results showed in the next game, a loss to highly rated St. Johns by 63-62 in Madison Square Garden. In this game the G.W. sophs came very close to providing one of the major upsets of the basketball season.

Again the final game of the season against the leading team in the Southern Conference, West Virginia, was very nearly the occasion of a major upset. In a hard fought contest G.W. finally succumbed by a score of 77-75. Finishing with a 3 wins and 9 losses record in their conference, the Colonials did not qualify for the conference play-offs.

Even though the team did not turn in an impressive record this year, great things are to be expected of it next year. Losing only two players via graduation, much underrated Ardie Baker and Dick Cilento, it will be a more experienced team returning next year. Back will be Gene Guarilia, top scorer and rebounder for the Buffs, and Bill Telasky, second highest scorer and brainy field general. The Colonials will also be able to count on the dependable rebounding and scoring of John Jolly next season.

"My gosh—move your ball!"

Along with these three will return three other young men whom G.W. will depend heavily upon: Bucky McDonald, Ron Matalavage, and Howie Bash. Filling out next year's squad and providing valuable bench strength will be Frank Morrison, Bill Fackler, Ron Dearden, Sam Knisley, Jerry Cooper, and Ken Erickson.

The closing word on the 1956-1957 season was, "Watch out for this team next year. A young club with a world of potential that could go all the way."

on the scene. A sophomore playing his first year of varsity ball, Gene scored 410 points in 24 games for an average of 17.1 points. In addition to this he led the team in rebounds. The high point of Gene's season was 32 points scored in a narrow defeat by St. John's. Second team All-Southern Conference honors were accorded to Gene.

BILL TELASKY—hailing from Albany, New York, and playing his second season of varsity ball although only a sophomore, Bill turned in another fine season. An excellent backcourt man, Bill was one of the boys that made the team move. Combine this virtue with the second highest scoring average of the team, 12.3 points per game, and the greatest foul shooting accuracy, and you begin to appreciate Bill's value to the team.

the basketball team this year. With a 10.5 points per game average Bucky was the third leading scorer this year. His straight-scoring set shots were his forte, as shown by his 21 points in the last game of the season against West Virginia. Only a sophomore, Bucky will be counted on next year.

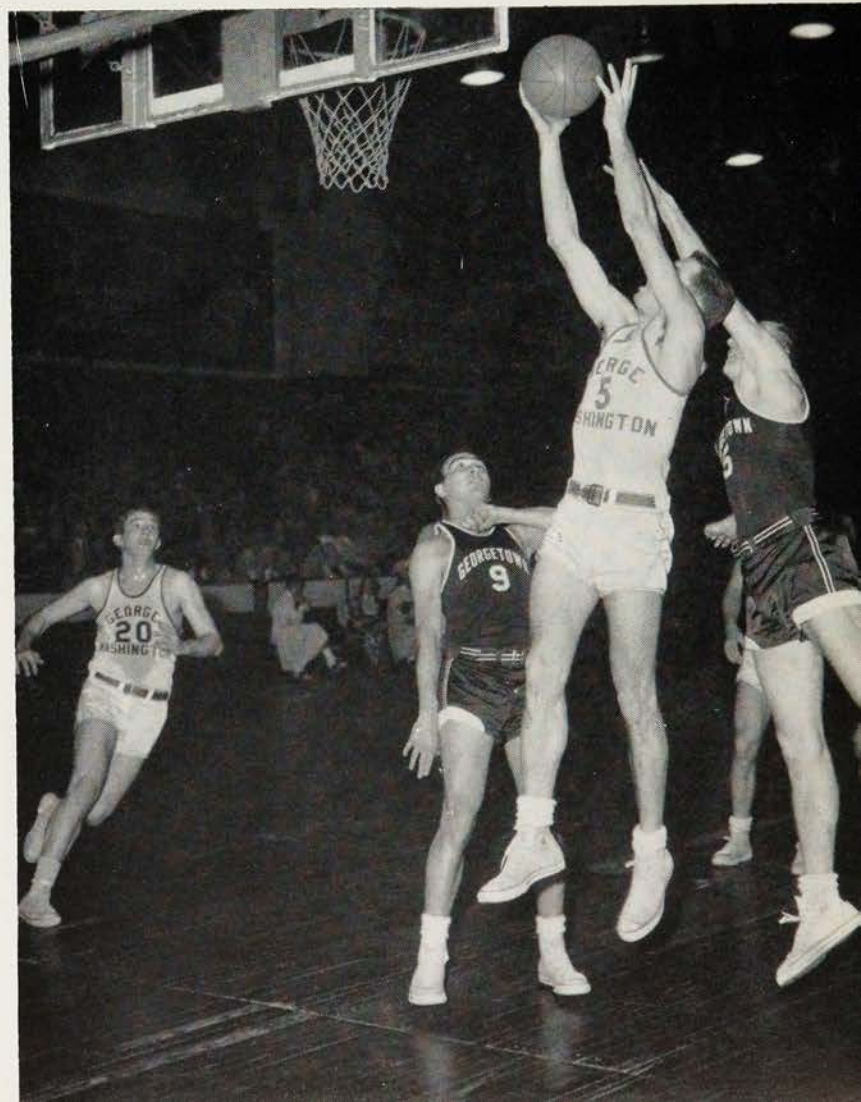

JOHN JOLLY—6' 6" forward from Rockport, Indiana, had another fine season for the Buffs. A steady scorer and rebounder, John was a great asset to the team. It may be that John will be one of the big scorers if given the opportunity. His 48.8 field goal accuracy percentage was tops for also score from the outside with either a jump shot or a push shot. Ron had one of his best games against V.M.I. when he led all scorers with 22 points. Another one of G. W.'s promising sophomores, Ron should deliver on his potential next season.

ARDIE BAKER—5' 10" guard from Washington, D.C., was captain of the team this year. Although used little this season, there were many observers who thought that Ardie could have been a great help to this inexperienced team if used more. Ardie had good shots from outside and was often able to utilize his exceptional speed to drive in for the close shots. Ardie played his best game in leading G.W. to a 79-77 win over William & Mary. Scoring 16 points and putting on a fine display of hustling, Ardie was the best player on the floor that night. Ardie is a senior and graduates.

Seven reasons for a winning season.

Baseball

A hustling, spirited squad, coupled with a top-notch won and lost record, culminated by the Southern Conference Championship, defines the 1956 Colonial doings on the diamond. Proving to be one of the most rewarding seasons in GWU's history, this year found the Buff and Blue finishing with a record of 8 wins and 3 losses in Southern Conference play, by far the best performance in the league.

Led by the superb pitching of Steve Bauk and Stan Walowac plus the heavy hitting of Bo Austin, Ray Looney, Bob Reed and John Saffer, the Colonials finished with an overall record of 11 wins and 7 losses. Due to the fine coaching of Bill Reinhart, the Buff fielded a squad that played good ball defensively, showed great power at the plate and hustled at every opportunity.

A fitting end to a great season came when Ray Looney, Steve Bauk, John Saffer and Dick Cilento were elected to the All-Conference first team. Bo Austin and Jim Hill made the second team.

This year's champion was not determined in the usual manner; instead of a round robin tournament, the trophy was awarded to the team compiling the best record in Conference play.

Misty morning on the Potomac.

After the fine 1955 season, the Colonial sailing team reached even greater heights in 1956. Like a racehorse when the gates open, the Buff and Blue started with a flash.

The first meet of the season was the Frostbite Regatta which GW won easily. Progressing to the Pentagonal Meet among Swarthmore, Catholic U., Maryland, and GW, the Colonials won the first four races before a storm arose and cancelled the remaining competition. At West Point, the Colonials beat the Cadets. Outstanding in this victory were Tony Wells and Rick Davis.

GW was handed its first defeat by a very strong team from the Naval Academy. The midshipmen took six out of seven races on a choppy Severn River to score the win over the Colonials.

Rounding out the schedule with the Middle Atlantic Championships, the GW sailors met their strongest opposition in Navy, Princeton, Haverford, Georgetown, Drexel and Catholic University.

With enthusiasm rapidly growing, the team is expected to have an even stronger crew next season.

Scrappy sailors fight choppy sea.

Sailing

Golf

After losing the first game to a strong squad from Dartmouth, the Colonial linksmen compiled a successful record of 5 wins and 4 losses. Proving themselves to be strong in the "clutch" games, Coach George Dffenbaugh's team won 5 of its 6 Southern Conference matches.

Led by Larry Spellman, Vic Bartlett, Irv Salamy, Warren Krick, Jerry Peake and Wayne Renick, the Colonial golfers beat VPI, Richmond, W & L, VMI and William and Mary. The squad's only loss in Southern Conference play came at the hands of W & L, whom they had previously beaten.

Losing only Wayne Renick from this year's squad, George Washington should have a top ranked team next year.

Larry Spellman, captain of this year's golf team.

Tennis

The Colonial tennis team closed out another of its successful seasons. Winning the Southern Conference championship, the netmen had a record of 5 wins without a loss in the Southern Conference. In capturing the title, the Buff and Blue won the playoff tournament held at Williamsburg.

Led by Jack Tarr, Neil Walsh, Saul Leibowitz and Herb Rappaport, the Colonials compiled an overall record of 10 wins and only 2 losses. The fine play of John Bouquet, Phil Dobyns and Bill Russell also added greatly to the team's success.

Coached by Bill Schreve, the team was composed of 3 freshmen and 3 upperclassmen. With the experience of one full season of intercollegiate play under their belt, Jack Tarr, Neil Walsh and Saul Leibowitz should form the nucleus for an even greater team next spring.

Men's Intramurals

Ah! The grunts and groans of the grotesque grapplers.

Functioning at a high level of achievement all year, the men's Intramural Department, under the direction of Vincent DeAngelis, had one of the most successful seasons in several years.

What with 2288 men participating in a well-varied and intensive program, the men of GW had many excellent opportunities to "break from the books" for a few hours of relaxation and enjoyment. Meeting the "nature, needs and capacities" of its students, Professor DeAngelis, with the able assistance of Monk Casper, Gene Branchi, and Ellen Prach, turned out a program featuring football, basketball, swimming, boxing, softball and track.

Outstanding performances recognized by the Department were turned in by Phi Alpha, which walked away with the All-University Team Achievement Award; Kappa Alpha, which received the Team Sportsmanship Trophy; and John Harrison of Sigma Nu, who was awarded the Individual Achievement and Participation Award.

A great deal of appreciation goes to the PE staff for their co-operation in officiating at the various contests.

Women's Sports

The Department of Physical Education for Women makes it possible for a girl to participate in a wide variety of sports. Activities such as basketball, bowling, badminton, canoeing, hockey, ice skating, horseback riding, riflery, softball, tennis and volleyball are available to all.

To encourage enthusiasm in season and year-round sports, the Women's Athletic Association of The George Washington University organizes sports clubs to provide additional instruction and practice for girls wishing to attain a greater degree of proficiency in their favorite athletic activities. Each of the clubs has a student manager.

EXTRAMURALS

Numerous tournaments are held throughout the year. Facilities for these activities are not only found in our own gym, but also at Potomac Park and other nearby locations.

INTRAMURALS

The women's athletic program is not confined to competing against other GWU students. The program also encompasses competition with other schools. The GWU girls meet teams from such schools as Hood, Goucher, American University, Trinity, Galludet, Marjorie Webster Junior College, Maryland University, Marymount Junior College and Georgetown Visitation in basketball, hockey, riflery and tennis.

The sports seasons are culminated with Sports-Award Buffet dinners at Lisner Lounge in honor of sports participants and award winners. Major and minor letters are awarded and outstanding players are selected in each sport.

Rifle

Under the fine coaching of Sgt. Gerald Purcell, the Colonial marksmen finished the season with a 3 and 3 record, and placed fourth in the Southern Conference. In appraising this record, one should take into consideration that the teams that placed in the top three spots are military schools.

Some of the outstanding marksmen on the men's rifle team were Paul Nordquist, Jim Brock, Bob Hubbard, Lou Clipp, Walt Dryer and Dan Bourland. These men faced The Citadel, W & L, Georgetown, Catholic University, VPI and VMI.

One of the lesser known sports, riflery combines sure eyesight and steady nerves. Each contestant fires ten shots each from three required positions: prone, kneeling and standing. A possible ten points can be scored for each shot thus making a total of 300.

With many of the same shooters returning, George Washington can anticipate an even better team next year. Paul Nordquist was elected captain of the 1956-1957 team.

The three classic positions for competition: standing, kneeling and prone.
